

When the stakes are high, there is no one better to call.

AS AN HONORS GRADUATE OF Harvard Law School, Ben C. Brodhead is no stranger to hard work. Since leaving the law firm of Paul, Hastings, Janofsky & Walker LLP in 1998, Brodhead has been applying that same work ethic to helping the seriously injured. Brodhead's efforts and accomplishments on behalf of his clients have earned him inclusion on the Georgia Super Lawyers® list again this year.

BEN BRODHEAD IS THE ATTORNEY OTHER ATTORNEYS CALL Brodhead's ability to think outside the box has earned him a reputation as the attorney to call when there is a high-dollar case on the line. Attorney Larry Hanna explains that, "Ben Brodhead is the attorney I associate on our largest personal injury cases ... and I always enjoy hearing the clients talk about the success [Brodhead] has in their cases." "I am very proud of the fact that attorneys trust me enough to refer their clients," says Brodhead, "and it is even better when we have achieved seven-figure results where others placed much lower values on the cases." When asked about Brodhead, attorney Mark A. Sullivan says, "Most attorneys work hard on their cases, but Ben Brodhead takes it to another level and comes up with successful strategies that no one else has ever even considered. I have seen him get millions of dollars on cases other attorneys would have lost."

BEN BRODHEAD MAKES INSURANCE COMPANIES PAY IN FULL Brodhead also has gained a reputation for holding insurance companies accountable. In fact, Brodhead has made insurance companies pay millions of dollars over their policy limits when they have acted in bad faith and refused to settle cases that should have been settled. Samuel Short, a former client of Brodhead's, says, "I was told by another attorney that it was a waste of time to even try to get more than policy limits, but Mr. Brodhead made the insurance companies in my case pay more than 20 times the policy limits. I never imagined anyone would work so hard on my case, but Mr. Brodhead did. His help really changed my life." Brodhead explains that some insurance companies will try everything possible to avoid paying what they legally owe. However, Brodhead says, "When insurance companies refuse to follow the law, we will make them pay for it. We refuse to let insurance companies take advantage of our clients."

LAW OFFICES OF BEN C. BRODHEAD, P.C.

LAW OFFICES OF
 BEN C. BRODHEAD, P.C.
 235 Peachtree St., NE, Suite 400
 Atlanta, GA 30303
 PH: (404) 846-0100 • FX: (404) 504-9908
www.brodheadlaw.com